

ONLINE WEBINAR

HSA

An tÚdarás Sláinte agus Sábháilteachta
Health and Safety Authority

INFLUENCING SAFETY CULTURE

A positive safety culture is the result of collaborative workplace efforts to create an environment where health and safety is prioritised. It happens where systems, structures and people's actions act together to integrate safe methods into operational decisions at all organisational levels.

This involves proactive approaches such as information sharing and learning opportunities taken in a timely way as well as reactive systems, such as regular system appraisals, proper investigations and general behavioural awareness.

The aim of this webinar is to clarify and heighten understanding of this important area, using simple definitions, real-life examples and highlighting actionable areas to improve safety culture.

Informed by experts from areas including Human Factors and Organisational Psychology at HSA.

Date & Time:

November 26th 2024, 11:00-12:00

REGISTER HERE

Why attend?

This introductory level webinar, relevant to all sectors, will:

- help you understand safety culture in simple terms,
- give you insights into the role of safety culture in workplace accidents,
- highlight key influences on safety culture, and
- share research findings on workable solutions.

Who should attend?

- Employers and duty-holders
- HR and People Managers
- Operations managers
- Production managers
- Safety representatives
- OSH researchers and consultants

Further details on the Agenda will be released in advance and will be available on our website www.hsa.ie and on HSA social media channels.